The Suetps, took perjutendent's medal was awarded to George Charefull, and several books donated by Hop. Lawis McKenzie, were awarded as premiums, besides aumerous cards of honor. The closing ex teses of Hallowell School for colored girls, Miss Sarah A. Gray, principal, and the division knows as Cusus School for little boys and girls, were held last night at the colored M. E. Courch, on south Washington street. A large number of the parents and friends of the chilaren were present, and good order and decorum prevailed, except in the gallery where some il managed colored people created much disorder. Among those present on the platform were Messis Lewis McKenzie and A. E. Addiso of the City School Board. The exercises consisted of singing and the award of honors. UNFAIR PRACTICES - Much complaint has been made at the coal agencies here of the unfair practices indulged in by some of the captains of tug boats plying on the river. It is claimed that these captains go some distance down the river, meet vessels bound up and persund their masters that it is contrary to their int rest to stop at this city, and that much higher rates of freight and better dispatch can he obtained at Georgetown. The tug boat men also charge more to tow a vessel to this city than they do to carry the same vessel to Georgetown, the less being made good to them by a bonus paid on each vessel by the Georgetown coal agents, who also pay the towage back to this city. This practice is certainly injurious to the interests of our city and coal trade, and should be discontinued by every fair minded man, especially by the tug boat owners who reside amonest us, and whose interest, in the main, must be the same as ours. Another thing complained of is that these same tug boat men after getting possession of vessels by misrepresentation as above stated, in passing this erry earry them upon the extreme edge of the Maryland channel, in order to prevent their being spoken and chartered here.

IMPOSTOR.—The Lynchburg Star of yesterday says:

"Our readers will remember that a short white ago mention was made or a man named Davis, who pretended to be a deaf mute in order to swindle our citizens. On being discovered he left for parts unknown. He was published in the Star as an impostor. He has since turned up in Alexandria under the name of Simpson, and claims to be from Daoville.

We were in Alexandria, Sunday evening, and har pened to meet Davis, alias Simpson, at the | bowels and thus divert the current of blood from City Hotel. Monday he was soliciting aid from the brain. the business men of that city. Davis is about five feet eight inches high, of stender build, light hair, has a remarkably intelligent face, dresses very well, wears a small moustache, a d is continually using a tooth pick. He frequently makes a queer noise with his mouth, and claims to be a shoemaker by trade. Our advice is to "pass him around."

SUIT AGAINST THE C. & O. CANAL COM PANY.-Stephen D. Castleman instituted suit in Washington Wednesday afternoon against the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company, c'aiming $1,500 damages for the loss of a canal boat. He sets out that on the 17th of July last his boat, worth $1,500, was lying in that part of Rock creek controlled by the canal company, and that the canal company, without notice, withdrew the water from the creek and caused his boat to sink upon an obstruction, by which it was wrecked and rendered totally worthiess. The case will come up for trial next winter.

DANGER OF BATHING .- Parents cannot be too careful about allowing their small boys to go swimming unless under charge of older persoos. Scarcely a week passes but some bair breadth escape takes place around the wharves or the canal. Sometimes succor is not pear enough, and then there is a sad case of drowning to report, some mother's darling boy, perhaps her only child, the joy of her life, snatched from her.

COAL TRADE, -- Saward's Coal Trade Journal of last Wednesday says: The Cumberland trade is not now what might be called active. yet there is always something doing, but it is unfortunate that the only outlet from this distriet should have the opportunity of making a greater profit than the mining company, who have their capital invested in this enterprise.
